

Name: _____

Date: _____

Scrambled Sentences

The words in the sentences have been scrambled. On the lines provided below each sentence, re-write the words of the sentence in the correct order.

1. low in the west the sun was dropping

2. no rain and it ran in ripples over the sparkling sand the river was clear there and shallow since there had been

3. as through a net long fingers of light reached through the apple branches

4. and the stove sent out a red glow the dusk deepened in the kitchen

5. your hand if you but tried to break a twig the branches had be come so hard that they wounded

6. that it seemed to sleep in the sun under the overhanging willows of the opposite bank there was an inlet where the water was deeper and flowed so slowly

7. howling for food at night the coyotes roam the wintry waste

8. deep from Christmas until March there had not been such snowstorms in twenty years and the path across the fields was drifted

Name:

Date:

Class:

Teacher:

Scrambled Sentences

The words in the sentences have been scrambled. On the lines provided below each sentence, re-write the words of the sentence in the correct order.

1. low in the west the sun was dropping

The sun was dropping low in the west.

2. no rain and it ran in ripples over the sparkling sand the river was clear there and shallow since there had been

The river was clear there, and shallow, since there had been no rain, and it ran in ripples over the sparkling sand.

3. as through a net long fingers of light reached through the apple branches

Long fingers of light reached through the apple branches as through a net.

4. and the stove sent out a red glow the dusk deepened in the kitchen

The dusk deepened in the kitchen and the stove sent out a red glow.

5. your hand if you but tried to break a twig the branches had be come so hard that they wounded

The branches had be come so hard that they wounded your hand if you but tried to break a twig.

6. that it seemed to sleep in the sun under the overhanging willows of the opposite bank there was an inlet where the water was deeper and flowed so slowly

Under the overhanging willows of the opposite bank there was an inlet where the water was deeper and flowed so slowly that it seemed to sleep in the sun.

7. howling for food at night the coyotes roam the wintry waste

At night the coyotes roam the wintry waste, howling for food.

8. deep from Christmas until March there had not been such snowstorms in twenty years and the path across the fields was drifted

There had not been such snowstorms in twenty years, and the path across the fields was drifted deep from Christmas until March.